Instructions to the Master

Falmouth Oct.r 5.th 1836.

Capt. Russell S Bodfish,

Dear Sir!

You are requested to proceed from this port with the ship William Penn under your command to the Pacific Ocean and elsewhere as you may think proper; and endeavor to obtain a cargo of sperm oil and return to this port——

Should you obtain oil on your outward passage, you are at liberty to touch at some port or place and ship it to the Agent at this place, or to Messrs Hussey & Markee commision Merchants New-York- Means & Clark Boston, John A Parker & son New Bedford, Prince & Benjamin Gardner Nantucket, subject to the order of the Agent ——

You will please endeavor to the utmost of your power, to prevent profane swearing and promote peace and harmony among the ships company ——

See that a regular Logbook is kept on board and in case of any accident — protest at the first port —

Please write every opportunity, and give all the information in your power You will (if necessary) deliver the articles from the slop chest to the crew & charge them at the retail price found in the right hand column of the list of slops and return this book with the charges against the crew contained therein ——
